IV. REPORTS

Chairperson

Chairperson Viecelli noted that State Senator Mark Walker recently sent out a postcard with information that would be helpful for older adults. The Arlington Heights Senior Center was included with the phone number.

Chairperson Viecelli added for her Commissioners Corner in the Live Well Age Well newsletter, she will write an article on the presentation from the Connections for the Homeless "Affordable Housing 101".

Senior Center Manager

Liaison Colagrossi is continuing to work on the revisions proposed at the last meeting. Chairperson Viecegli noted that when the changes are live, it would be good to market it.

Then next marketing opportunity to promote the work of Age-Friendly is Friday, September 27 from 5 pm to 7 pm. The Commissioners suggested having a game to play or something for people to do to draw in attention. The group suggested having a spinning wheel or Plinko. Plinko was affordable and different prizes like the magnets, bookmarks, and candy can be given out. Potentially the hardest prize would be a subscription to the newsletter.

V. OLD BUSINESS

VI. NEW BUSINESS

At the next meeting the commissioners will review the 2025 marketing plan for Age-Friendly. Other ideas for marketing were discussed such as advertising in the Prime-Time section of the Daily Herald.

Liaison Colagrossi mentioned the ICON project from the Village. Each department shares something about their areas of service each month. These entries will go into a newsletter for the Village as well as social media posts. Ms. Colagrossi is in charge of posting for the Senior Center.
